

PRESS RELEASE

W. R. Grace & Co. names Quadra distributor for their SYLOID® Silica excipient product portfolio for the Pharmaceutical & Nutraceutical industries in Canada effective July 1st, 2021. SYLOID® Silicas are used in a wide range of applications such as moisture protection, flow improvement, moisture-assisted dry granulation and oil absorption in lipid-based technologies.

“Grace is thrilled to welcome Quadra as a channel partner,” said Sandra Wisniewski, President, Grace Materials Technologies. “From early conversations, it was very clear that Quadra views customer success and high-value solutions as critical to its business, which aligns with Grace’s customer-driven approach.” – Sandra Wisniewski

“Quadra is proud to represent W. R. Grace & Co., a global producer of high-quality SYLOID® Silica excipients” said Christine Infilise, Vice President Ingredients at Quadra. “As a complement to our existing high-quality product offerings and our focused sales team, we look forward to meeting the diverse SYLOID® Silica excipient needs for manufacturers in Canada “
